Here is a quick summary:

Beta-sitosterol is the active ingredient in saw palmetto berries, which have been used for centuries to treat patients with prostate and urinary problems. The active ingredient in saw palmetto as well as other herbal remedies such as pygeum, stinging nettle, and pumpkin seeds is beta-sitosterol. Each Max Prostate Pro capsule contains 150 mg of beta-sitosterol. You would have to eat 2 lbs. of saw palmetto to get the same amount of beta-sitosterol as we have in ONE tablet. Max Prostate Pro is 3000 times more beta sitosterol than saw palmetto.

Read our research and learn that there are many other healing benefits from using beta-sitosterol. I cannot make any health claims because of FDA Regulations but these studies show that beta-sitosterol can be used to cure such conditions as cancer, tumors, diabetes, blood clotting, ulcers, arteriosclerosis, alopecia, and inflammation. Don't take my word for this, read the studies. I published them for you to request and read.

What you read will start you on the way to greater comfort and allow you to live a full and active lifestyle. It may well save your life as well. Prostate cancers kill almost as many men as all other forms of cancer put together.

Quick summary of the published research on beta-sitosterol:

1. Beta-sitosterol is the miraculous common denominator in saw palmetto, Pygeum africanum, pumpkinseed oil, stinging nettles, and other natural prostate remedies.
2. Max Prostate Pro each serving contains 450 mg. of pure natural mixed beta-sitosterols from plant sources (sugar cane pulp) plus 50 mg. of zinc picolinate and 200 mcg of selenium. Each 300 mg caplet has as much beta-sitosterol content as 3000 capsules of dried saw palmetto berries. You read that correctly-3000 capsules of saw palmetto.
3. This is the only offering of pure beta-sitosterol for nutritional prostate support.
4. Numerous international scientific journals have published scientific studies that prove that beta-sitosterol is the most effective remedy known for prostate problems. Journals like the International Journal of Immunopharmacol., 1996; The Lancet, 1995; European Journal of Drug Metab., 1997; Anticancer Research, 1996; European Patent EP 287,000, Minerva Urologia, 1985; British Journal of Clinical Pharmacology, 1984; Medizinische Klinik, 1982; European Urology, 1992 and 1994, and Fortsher. Med., 1980.
5. Beta-sitosterol is already in your diet in common foods we eat every day but only in small amounts. It is completely safe and without side effects.
6. Herbal extracts are sold in Germany and France by prescription only under the names Harzal and Permixon. They are expensive and contain only a small fraction of the beta-sitosterol contained in a single caplet of Max Prostate Pro. Even the best herbal extracts sold in the U.S. contain only small amounts of beta-sitosterol, and most of them require that you take 6 or more tablets a day.
7. Each year over 400,000 men in the United States alone undergo prostate surgery and over a billion dollars a year is spent on prostate treatment. Proscar, the leading drug, is highly dangerous and according to the United States Veteran's Administration is no more effective than sugar pills. Surgery often results in incontinence and impotence. Are you ready to wear diapers, suffer castration, and never have sex again?
8. Prostate cancer is the second leading cause of death for men after lung cancer. 90% of prostate cancer goes undetected until it is
